

Don't panic: you CAN find health statistics!

Instructors: Dagmara Chojecki & Liza Chan (John W. Scott Health Sciences Library, University of Alberta)

Intended audience: Health Librarian, Health Library Technician, Health Library Administrators, Health Care Professionals, Health Consumers, Library school students.

CE Contact Hours: 3.0

Contact e-mail: dagmara.chojecki@ualberta.ca, liza.chan@ualberta.ca

Methods of delivery: lecture, discussion, hands-on interactive session.

Summary: Finding health statistics can be daunting and time consuming. This course is designed to help guide the search for statistical information by providing participants with systematic approaches and effective methods. Participants will be introduced to a variety of statistics resources and their appropriate use. The session will consist of lecture, practical exercises, and hands-on searching. Participants are strongly encouraged to bring their own laptops but this is not an absolute requirement for participation (just preferred).

Accredited: until May 2018